Dental Office Interiors 101

What happens when you build/renovate your office in this economy?

- Your project will cost 25%-35% less than it would have in 2008.
- You will raise your patients' spirits when they arrive for evaluation and treatment, increasing practice traffic.
- You will invigorate your staff.

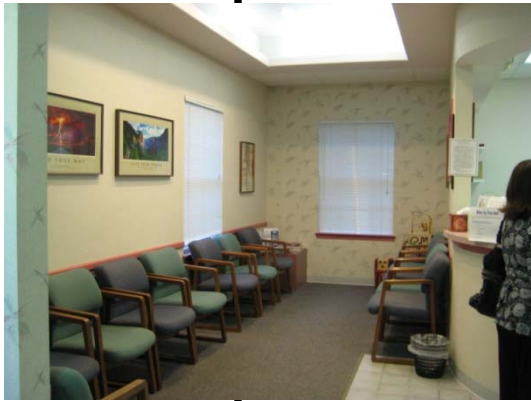

The attached photos were taken this week at a Bel Air orthodontic office that has refreshed its existing space this summer with new finishes, millwork and furniture. We are proud to show you the results of our project. Email us to explore economical and creative ways to get the most mileage out of your investment, saving money and improving your results by collaborating with PLDA.
